OPENING GUN OF CAMPAIGN WILL BE FIRED MON- DAY, OCTOBER 4.

General Harvey Hannah To Address Voters.

The opening speech for the Democratic Ticket, both State and National, will be made by General Harvey Hannah at the courthouse in Gainesboro on Monday, October 4, at 1 P. M.

General Hannah is one of the leading orators of Tennessee, and the people of Jackson county are to be congratulated on having the first opportunity to hear this talented exponent of the great principals of Democracy.

General Hannah is a nephew of the late Robert L. Taylor and possesses many of the fine traits of character of our much beloved "Bob". At the Democrat National Convention held at San Francisco this summer he delivered an address which was considered to be best heard by the convention. The vast assembly of men and women listened with breathless attention throughout his address, and at the conclusion encored him for several minutes.

Every Democrat in Jackson county should hear Gen. Hannah discuss the great issues that confront us as a State and Nation.

Every lady in the county is extended a special invitation to hear General Hannah.

Teachers Warned of Breach of Contract.

Albert Williams, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, sends out the following letter relative to the breach of contract on the part of school teachers.

"The attention of the Department of Public Instruction has lately been called to instances of breach of contract on the part of teachers who resigned their positions without the consent of the Board employing them and without the notice called for in their contract.

"When a teacher accepts a position the law requires that a written agreement be entered into between the teacher and the law provides that they must be used. The agreement as set forth in this form is valid, binding, bilateral contract, and can not be avoided by either party thereto without rendering such party liable for breach of contract.

"In addition to this aspect of the question the deliberate breach of a contract is an act that will justify action under the statute providing for the revocation of a teacher's license."

Fire and Accident Prevention Day, Saturday, Oct. 9.

Executive Chamber,
Nashville, Sept 9, 1920.

It has become the custom throughout the United States to set apart a Fire Prevention Day. The date agreed upon is Oct. 9, anniversary of the great Chicago fire of a generation ago. President Wilson has issued a proclamation setting apart this date for general observance throughout the states of the union. Tennessee must not be behind in the work of stifling the fire fiend throughout her domain. It is earnestly desired, therefore, that all good people will join in observance of this Fire Prevention Day, and that all civic bodies, all schools, all fire and police departments, all women's clubs, will contribute toward making it a success. Our state suffers annually very material losses, most of which are avoidable. These losses are not to property alone, but to the lives of citizens. On this occasion we should call it Fire and Accident Prevention Day. I earnestly hope that part of the good to come from the day's observance will be a continued interest on the part of the public and general co-operation every day of the year on the part of all classes of people. Make the effort determined and unremitting. Rescue your state from one its most harmful enemies. The importance of the duty should address itself to every man, woman and child in the state. As this year Oct. 9 comes on Saturday, I urge that all schools celebrate the day with their programs on the Friday preceding.

Now, therefore, I, A. H. Roberts, Governor, do hereby proclaim and designate Saturday, Oct. 9, 1920, Fire and Accident Prevention Day in Tennessee, and urge that every resident of the state, whether private citizen or public official, join in its observance and make the day the success it deserves to be.

"The Fire Marshals' Association of North America in convention at Toronto strongly endorsed the plan of observing this day and suggested that the co-operation of the churches be enlisted for the proper emphasis of the purposes of the day. I earnestly request the churches to give whatever effective attention is possible to the matter.

"In testimony whereof I have hereunto subscribed my name and affixed the great seal of the state of Tennessee. Done at the State Capitol, in the city of Nashville, this 9th day of September, 1920.

"(Signed) A. H. Roberts,
Governor.

"(Signed) Ike B. Stevens,
Secretary of State."

One secret of a sweet and happy Christian life is learning to live by the day. It is the long stretches that tire us. We think of life as a whole, running for years. We cannot carry on this load until we are threescore and ten. We cannot fight this continually for half a century. But really there are no long stretches. Life does not come to us all at one time; it comes only a day at a time.—Selected.

Democrats Asked To Con- tribute to Cox-Roosevelt Fund.

The Democratic National Committee wants help, wants it in an open, above-board, public way. The Cox-Roosevelt man are in great need of funds—not millions as are available to their opponents—but modest thousands with which to offset the effect of the immense funds being used to confuse and misrepresent the true issues of the present national campaign.

They propose to get needed funds directly from the body of Cox-Roosevelt supporters. This is in harmony with the financial policies of previous Democratic Campaigns. In 1912 nearly 100,000 persons subscribed to the fund used in carrying the Wilson message to the people. In 1916 even a larger aggregate number of individuals rendered financial help. Though the time for making appeal is short the Cox-Roosevelt managers believe even a larger number want to contribute this year.

They have no hope or desire of matching millions with the Republicans; in fact, they don't believe that such is necessary even if it were tolerable. But, some funds are needed with which to do legitimate work—the maintaining of headquarters, the writing of letters, the sending forth of information which the voters should have.

Ample funds would readily come to the Democratic managers were they to ignore all questions of source and purpose represented by large donations from selfish interest.

Instead they are leaving the matter to the people, to those who give, modestly, perhaps, but yet out of no motive but unselfish desire to promote the principles represented by James M. Cox and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

They believe the masses of the Cox-Roosevelt supporters will thus come to the aid of the campaign, and have requested this newspaper to receive and transmit contributions from its readers.

Contributions are needed badly and are needed now.

Send yours at once to this office and it will be forwarded promptly to national headquarters at Grand Central Palace, New York City.

Jackson County High School Notes of Interest.

The present enrollment approximating two hundred. The faculty consisting of a principal, four grade teachers and music instructor, are well organized and are now getting down to business.

The first public entertainment of the school will be given in the auditorium of the school building on Friday night of Oct. 1st. Remember the time and place. Everybody invited. No admission fee will be charged. The program consists of Bible stories told by the school children. Come out and hear your children tell thrilling stories of the Bible.

The teachers take this opportunity of thanking the Parent-Teacher Association for their cooperation and for putting things in order for the opening of the school. We wish to thank them for their assistance by being present at the opening and for their inspiring talks and suggestions.

The High school pupils chaperoned by the principal and other teachers "picknicked" at the old milldam on Roaring river Saturday, following the first week's work. All report a fine time.

The school girls worked a clever trick on Bro. Bratcher, who was holding a revival here and Prof. Jackson, principal of the High school. The girls took them out riding on a big motor truck and the girls say that the gentlemen were busy holding on with one hand and holding their breath with the other.

In the first baseball game of the season the school boys defeated the town boys in a hotly contested game last week, the score being 15 to 12.

Primary Department.

This division of the school is progressing rapidly, although a number of pupils are out on account of sickness.

I should like to insist that the parents cooperate with me and help keep down disease by seeing that each child has an individual drinking cup.

Another thing of vital importance is a physical examination, especially where the child is subject to headaches and fever.

I should be very glad to have the patrons visit us at anytime.
Lola Hughes.

High Aspirations.

"You are fond of school, aren't you, dear?" asked a teacher of a pupil who had just finished her first week.

"W'y, Miss Andrews," replied the little tot. "I mean to go to all the schools they is until I get to the highest school, and I mean to study all the histories they is until I study the highest one. I mean to study the history of the angels, even."

It is one of the mysteries connected with our depravity that we grow accustomed to our blessings, and they seem to us but little things, whereas we magnify our troubles till the cloud which is really the size of a man's hand fills our entire horizon. Verily it delights man to be miserable, or he would not act thus.—Western Recorder

"Newberrying" The Whole United States.

The tactics which the National Republican party is using in this 1920 Presidential campaign are tactics used in Michigan to elect Senator Truman H. Newberry.

It was the election of Newberry by the wholesale use of money which gave the Republicans the one vote needed to organize and control the United Senate and put Lodge at the head of the Foreign Relations Committee, with the subsequent defeat of the treaty as a result.

It was the election of Newberry under such conditions, so Governor Cox charges, that put the Senate oligarchy in position to nominate one of their own members for President.

The Republican may have learned nothing from the Newberry election, but the people of the United States have. Republican politicians can not "Newberrize" the United States.

Christianity wants nothing so much in the world as sunny people, and the old are hungrier for love than bread. The oil of joy is very cheap, and if you can help the poor with a gragment of praise, it will be better for them than blankets.—Henry Drummond.
